DBEY THE LAW.

The water problem, always a serious now by reason of the almost unpreawns to a few minutes and permitting ject. that few minutes' use only on two days of each week. This is in order to permit the sprinkling department to resume

But the money is to be secured through the sale of bonds that will run for a long term of years at a suffer than to risk an epidemic of discase that might result from the thick dust in the streets. As is well known, germs of many diseases lurk in dust. The least breeze sends particles of tust containing these germs into houses where they are breathed into the lungs of citizens and where they contaminate the food. By sprinkling alone can this danger be avoided.

Mr. Bodine seems to hold women ous. responsible for the fact that more girls than boys are born every year. This doesn't look exactly fair. We don't see how the mothers can help it and Mr. Bodine doesn't point out any remedy himself. And we are sure Mr. Bodine wouldn't have women hurry themselves out of life just to equalize the death rate. That is asking altogether forecasted by a recent government

A GREAT UNDERTAKING.

Los Angeles, too, has a water problem, and Los Angeles is going about its solution in a masterful manner. Work has already been begun on a project that will cost $23,000,000, but it will give Los Angeles enough water to supply a city of 2,000,000 population. The sum seems a large one to spend, but when it has been spent Los Angeles can rest lake. that and other circumstances that the day is not far distant when man, like the Indian, will die out and leave only women to inhabit the earth.

There is an obvious difficulty about such a calamity but Mr. Bodine, wrapped in a fog of pessimism, didn't see it. For our own part we are just coptimistic enough to believe that when the race of mah dies out, using the term in the sense of males, the women will somehow die out also. Our theory is that they are necessary to the existence of each other. But we must not treat this grave subject with levity. To
